Next time you treat yourself to a weekend at one of Brisbane or the Gold Coast's top hotels make sure to check out the coffee table books in your suite. You'll find a stunning fashion pictorial in the 2008 editions of the Brisbane Book and the Gold Coast book featuring fantastic hair from two of Bossy's rising stars.

Windsor's Alex Sae-Ku Chutidech and Albany Creek's Melissa Reilly created the fabulous hairstyles for the recent swimwear shoot. They worked their hair magic on location at the historic Spring Hill baths where the bright colours of the paintwork perfectly complimented the dynamic fashion that is set to dominate pools and beaches next summer.

Alex worked closely with the fashion stylist and make-up artist to concept the complete look of the shoot. Alex and Melissa created futuristic and highly textured hairstyles to match the first story of fruit tingle brights and then restyled the models into perfect elegance for the second story which featured glamorous beach and cruise wear.

At Bossy we are bursting with creativity so this is a very exciting time of year. As the days draw longer we come closer to the annual event that brings butterflies to every passionate hairdresser – the Wella Trend Vision contest. The contest was founded in 2003 as part of Wella's global initiative to inspire the very best in hairdressing. Hairdressers all over the world submit their entries by sending photographs of their most creative work to Wella's head office and they are judged on a multitude of aspects from hair and make-up to concept and fashion. The finals take place in a European city and are an amazing event – as befits the world's largest hair care company.

If you would like to experience the very latest and most creative of hairstyles speak to your regular salon – chances are your favourite stylist is looking for a model to wear their fantasy for Trend Vision. Models get great hair, a fun day on a professional photo shoot and copies of the images produced – it's a great experience and you'll look like a cover girl from the most fashion forward magazine!

Ever wondered how celebrities change their hair as often as they change their frocks? The secret to their chameleon-like hair lies in the careful addition of high quality hair pieces. Adding length and body a good hair piece creates the ultimate red carpet look. Jessica Simpson's close friendship with her hair dresser Ken Paves led to the creation of the simple hair clip – the cutely named 'hair-do'.

Available in a spectrum of shades that blend invisibly into manes of every tone the hair-do hair clips straight in with the minimum of fuss. Hair-dos are on every red carpet and at every A-list Hollywood event but they look so good you'll never know who wore them. Next time you feel a pang of jealousy for the luscious locks of Ashlee Simpson, Jennifer Lopez or Eva Longoria head to Bossy and pick up your very own hair-do celebrity secret.

spotted

Our spies spotted Bossy people at the Entertainment Centre in Boondall – backstage creating the best hair for Ms Celine Dion's team!!

Meanwhile over at Kelvin Grove we've found the best new restaurant in town. It's all about sharing at St Jerome's a boutique bistro with a cool but welcoming design and charm to spare. You can share from dawn to dusk with enchanting menu moments from the romantic breakfast for two, to the platters of delicious main course delights and the delectable deserts that are designed to share with someone you adore. Share two pitchers of their signature of cocktails and the generous hosts will provide a taste plate on the house.
